About NIE

Established in 1999, the National Institute of Education (NIE) conducts UMAT preparation courses aimed at developing the knowledge, skills and strategies required to maximise your entry potential.

NIE was the first UMAT provider to be a Government Registered Training Organisation. Our teachers are fully qualified, experienced and committed to the standards of excellence in education and teaching. NIE is supported by expert staff and advisors, including teachers accredited by the Department of Education and Training, are members of the Australian Tutoring Association, a range of health care professionals, academics, and practising clinicians. Our UMAT teaching staff have all sat the UMAT and have an academic background directly relevant to the three UMAT constructs.

Our unique approach...

Researching, teaching and reviewing our UMAT programs over the past seventeen years has put us at the forefront of UMAT preparation and tuition. Students are treated as individuals, with a level of respect deserved by such high achievers, and the approach of our staff is to nurture their progress through a balanced program of self-directed learning and face-to-face teaching. The NIE programs are specifically designed to maximise a student's preparation time without detracting from their other studies. A core part of our programs are the hardcopy books that replicate the UMAT.

NIE is still the only provider offering:

- Hardcopy books for every UMAT construct.
- Full practice tests with answers and explanations.
- Intensive face-to-face workshops.
- Expert teachers accredited by the DET and are Members of the Australian Tutoring Association.
- A revolutionary medical interview training program.

UMAT Books

We research and review our books each year, adding new practice questions and tests, resulting in the most up-to-date and relevant UMAT preparation available. We do not conduct online courses where you have limited access and no ownership of the material. NIE provides quality written material that you own forever and can use anywhere and any time, allowing for greater flexibility and seamless incorporation of materials into your study schedules.

Our workshops include

An overview of the total UMAT process (exam, scores, standardising, applications, university requirements, interviews, and more) including past experiences, professional advice, and performance expectations. Each student is assessed for peak performance. Strategic problem solving and tuition in each UMAT construct is presented by highly experienced and expert lecturers. A full practice test sat under exam conditions, followed by a marking and feedback session.

Workshop Dates and Locations

NIE runs UMAT preparation workshops around Australia and New Zealand. Please consult NIE website for workshop dates and locations.
